HALABJA

Halabja Massakren

Et kunstnerisk mindearrangement i anledning af 16 års dagen for Halabja massakren

I 1988 angreb det irakiske regime på en umenneskelig måde den uskyldige kurdiske befolkning i byen Halabja i irakisk Kurdistan med giftgasbomber. Få minutter efter angrebet mistede over 5.000 kurdere livet og over 12.000 blev såret og fik permanente lidelser.

I år, for første gang efter Saddams fald, vil en gruppe kurdiske kunstnere bestående af musikere, forfattere, digtere, filminstruktører m.v. afholde et kunstnerisk mindearrangement i anledning af 16 års dagen for Halabja.

Program

- TV reportage om Anfal og Halabja.
- Digtsymfoni af Amanj Zarafian.
- Instruktøren for filmen (Before.... Dawn) Anwar Sendy (en film lavet i irakisk Kurdistan i samarbejde med Nordisk Film) fortæller om motivet bag filmen og viser en del af filmen.
- Halabja musikvideo med den kurdiske sanger Masoud Mohammadi. Et musikværk lavet i samarbejde med Københavns Ballet Akademi, N-TV og den kurdiske instruktør Bakhtiar Fars.
- Digt af den dansk-kurdiske forfatter Adil Erdem.
- Musik af den kurdiske musiker Goran M. Ibrahim og den iranske musiker Pejman Madani.
- Musik af den kurdiske sangerinde Nazi.
- Refrandon gruppen fortæller om den nuværende situation i Halabja og irakisk Kurdistan.
- Solo optræden af den unge musiker Redur Akram med 2 melodier på Cello instrument.

Det er en stor ære for os, at invitere alle til arrangementet, og håber på en bred opbakning fra Deres side i kampen om frihed og tryghed for det kurdiske folk.

Arrangementet forgår på dansk.

Kurds are one of the few nations who have been subjected to Genocide. In 1988 Saddam's army carried out some of the most horrendous attacks in history called Anfal.

During Anfal, 182,000 Kurdish men, women and children were massacred; chemical weapons were used: the whole world witnessed the chemical attack of Halabja; Over 4000 villages were razed to the ground; millions of livestock were destroyed; the environment and the rural Kurdish existence was eradicated.

Like figures unearthed in Pompeii, the victims of Halabja were killed so quickly that their corpses remained in suspended animation. A driver in his car slumped back dead. Pedestrians fell to the ground, dead. There was a plump baby whose face, frozen in a scream, stuck out from the protective arm of a man, away from the open door of the house he never reached.

Richard Beeston Daily Telegraph, 22.3.1988

Death seemingly caught them almost unawares in the midst of their household chores.

They had just the strength, some of them, to make it to the doorways of their homes, only to collapse there or a few feet beyond. Here a mother seems to clasp her children in a last embrace, there an old man shields an infant from he cannot have known what.

David Hirst The Guardian, 22.3.1988
